..... So I I decided it was time for me to leave. For the last time, I looked around the restaurant hall where we spent this amazing day, and when I saw the waitress, who, as usual, came up to our table to pick up the plates after dessert, he said to her: - Please don't forget the bill. She immediately knew that I was leaving. - Check?she asked. - Of course, the bill. "I'm sorry, but that's impossible," she said firmly. I was taken aback. Until now, no one, and even more so the waitress, did not refuse me this.
